Dear Madame:

I understand from Professor Francis Rogers that you have been invited to Harvard on Tuesday, April 14, to give a talk at 12:00 noon and to have lunch as the guest of Professor Jules Brody and others in the Department of Romance Languages.

I do hope that you will have time to come to the University Marshal's Office at about 11:30 AM to permit me to welcome you to Harvard and to give you an opportunity to sign the University guest book. My office is located in Wadsworth House at 1341 Massachusetts Avenue and I enclose a map showing its location.

I look forward to greeting you.

Yours sincerely,

William G. Anderson
University Marshal
