

Monday April 6 University of Massachusetts, Boston

- 2,30 meet Chancellor Robert A. Corrigan, who will introduce your talk at the Kennedy Library
- 3:00 informal meeting with Portuguese students
- 4:00 Public Lecture at the Kennedy Library, followed by reception until 6:00.

Tuesday April 7 Liz Leeds will come to the house some time during the morning to discuss Harvard and B.U. lectures.

- misleading as if it would be only South

12 - 2 Luncheon at ^{Harvard} M.I.T. with ^{joint} Study Group on Women and Development

6,00 Dinner at the Slovers with Prof. Francis and Elsie Rogers

Wednesday, April 8 Center for European studies / 2nd part of talk

12:00 Luncheon lecture at Harvard's Center for Intern't'l Affairs. Stanley Hoffman will introduce you. Port. vis-a-vis Europe

2:30 Meeting with Ben Brown

8:00 Lecture at Boston University, Politics and Anthropology Dep't. Tony Leeds

"Port. relationships with former colonies"
East Empire - - - reestablishment of ties

Thursday, April 9

Brown University, Providence, Rhode Island
Onesimo Almeida will pick you up

6:00 Cocktail and Reception
Dinner

8:00 Public Lecture

Yes
No
(Onesimo wants to interview you on a New Bedford T.V. program on the way down to Brown. I have not committed you. You're also invited to stay overnight at Brown, and the next morning to have a sort of "open house" with people from the university and Portuguese community. In my opinion, you don't have to ~~if you~~ if you prefer not to. Brown is only about one hour from Boston, so they could drive you back here after the lecture if you want.)

Luis Soares (Lunch)

Friday April 10 nothing scheduled. I suggest we and the Leeds and Susan Schneider (Historian at UM/B who wrote her dissertation, newly published book on the Port Wine Trade under Pombal) celebrate with a private dinner.

8:00 concert of Portuguese music at Harvard, performed by Janet Lindquist.

Saturday April 11 nothing scheduled. The Slovers and their religious education group (7 families) are having a Paschal Meal at our house in the evening, to which you are much welcome, indeed, heartily invited.

Sunday April 12 leave in the early afternoon for Dartmouth College in Hanover, New Hampshire. You will be picked up by car. It's a 2½ to 3 hour ride.

At Dartmouth, you will be the "Honorary Fellows" lecturer, a program established by the Class of 1930. Previous Honorary Fellows were Margaret Mead and Andrew Young.

April 13 Monday A.M. attend one class on European politics

P.M. after lunch, informal discussion with a women's study group.

8 P.M. Formal public lecture (Lyz) women + politics

Marisa Navarro arranged your visit to Dartmouth. She is part of the Women's Studies Center there, and has recently published a book on women political leaders in Latin America.

April 14 Tuesday You will be brought back to Boston by car.

12-1 Prof. Rogers' class, Humanities 25 :The Culture of Portugal.

4:12 P.M. Fly to Canada, flight #512, Delta Airlines (there is a plane change in Montreal, to Quebec Air, arrives in Quebec City 7:10 P.M. You will be met by Prof. Jacques Zylberberg.

April 15 Wednesday Two talks in French: Women in Politics, and Politics in Portugal
Laval University

Fly to Montreal. Will be met by Prof. Thomas Bruneau, author of The Catholic Church in Brazilian Politics, and currently writing a book about Catholics in Portugal.

April 16 Thursday

2 P.M. lecture ~~at~~ on Portuguese Democracy after the Revolution, co-sponsored by European Studies and the Center for Developing Areas Studies.

evening: fly to New York, and up to Cornwall for the weekend.

April 20 } Washington
(21)

