Dear Marysa,

You must have felt across the Dean how much you were talked about here today - Ambassador Bloomfield came to my place for lunch and we made an unanimous choir about your talents, dynamism and daring enterprises!

Indeed, I was very happy with our meeting, though I am still hoping for a more leisurely time on another occasion. My visit to Darmouth College was a very stimulating one and I have no doubt that it is due to a great extent to you and to your warm hospitality. Thank you for everything you did for me.

There is also a lot I would like to talk with you in relation to women's studies. Let us hope that we may be able to design a situation in which such a sharing will be possible.

With my warmest greetings,
