our natural environment against initiated and structural intercensal estimates of the status quo put up with.

At many meetings and joint activities we have made the encouraging experience that a comprehensive understanding of peace, that shalom - peace incorporating justice and an attitude compatible with creation - is growing among us. Therefore we cling to the hope of a common future in Europe and to the ecumenical vision to overcome the powers of destruction, oppression and poverty. In doing so we put our trust in Him who, facing death, said: "The kingdom of God is in the midst of you."
