Dear Miss Pintasilgo,

I am wondering whether my last letter reached you so I am sending this to both the addresses that I have in the hope that one of them may be right.

I am most anxious now to get your essay on the Ministry of Women in the Church of Rome for the Symposium on the Dignity of Women and the Heresy of Feminism as soon as possible since it is becoming increasingly evident that the book is badly needed and should be published without delay.

My very best wishes to you for 1963.

Yours sincerely in Christ,
