

- "I'm very glad if I will be able to contribute even a little to the human culture" 3J J
- "to work for the betterment of society" 1 J
- ("I see myself fairly involved in education and politics" 41C
- "to continue working in service to promote understanding and peace in us hemisphere and world" 74 C
- "to have an active participation in my society
and have a general view and participation in many subjects" 58 E
- "to do interesting things, for me that is being engaged with the problems of society
- discrimination because of rally, sex, your position in society, etc. and people." 108 E
- b) "create more jobs and gradually spread well-being among the not so fortunate as I have more opportunity myself" 1 J
- "I want to educate children who will be able to take responsibility for the international society.
The children should be a strong force to build democratic and peaceful Japan". 15 J
- "do volunteer work to help non-profit organization". 68 C

- "amener les plus défavorisés à une plus grande autonomie à travers l'acquisition d'un savoir: alphabétisation; hygiène; médecine". 81 E
- "to become a consultant to organizations nationally and internationally concerning transformation". 74 E
- "to help in some small way to overcome the present inequalities of race, gender and class" 104 E
- "to continue studying without losing the essential question what it means for human being". 37 J
- "to be involved in the transcendence towards a politics of caring, by creating and engaging in alternative medium of communication-opening dialogue between and among persons" 45 C
- Fundação Cuidar o Futuro
- "to affect political change through the arena of writing and through participation in some capacity in government - i.e. opposition or research - I even consider organizing people for pressure. To change the situation concerning who has knowledge and who does not". 49 C
- "to be a good activist
(...) good activism can change mentalities and things, and these changes I consider to be extremely important". 54 E
- "to go around the world, networking with people who are interested in transformation of this planet". 76 E

"to contribute to part of women's progress and self-awareness in my country - particularly an awareness of women being human too and not just a female in our very conservative and male chauvinistic society".

2 J

"to continue my voluntary work in a political party because in that way I can help to change some things in society".

75 B

These young women have a definite commitment to social change and to a more political way of contributing to society.

They know that they can have a contribution and want to have it.

Sometimes it may be a very general concern. What one of them says could maybe represent the degree 1 of social concern:
active participation in society and to have a general view and participation in many subjects.

